

Profile

Denise Mannix Senior Consultant

Specialisations:

- Senior Management and Executive Career Transition
- Strategic and Operational HR Leadership
- Organisation Development
- Recruitment Consulting

Experience & Clients :

With psychology and human resource development qualifications, Denise possesses more than 20 years human resource management experience. She commenced her career as a graduate in the banking industry and after holding positions in recruitment and training, she progressed to the position of WA State Training and Development Co-ordinator with Coles Myer Ltd (Discount Stores Group). Following this, Denise spent 7 years in the health industry with Royal Perth Hospital (WA's largest tertiary hospital) co-ordinating corporate staff development activities, managing the medical HR function then co-ordinating all HR aspects of the closure of a major health facility including the redeployment and redundancy of over 200 employees.

In 1995 Denise joined KPMG Management Consulting and for 7 years provided consulting services in career transition, human resource management and organization development to a range of public and private sector organisations across varied industries including mining and resources, banking and financial services, professional services (including legal and accounting), education, health and agriculture.

Since 2001, Denise has expanded her consulting experience providing specialist HR advisory services in organisation development, recruitment, performance management, outplacement and career transition, leadership assessment and development plus executive coaching. She works across varied industries including professional services, manufacturing, mining, retail, health and all occupational groups including senior executives, line managers, professionals, specialists, administrators, trades and semi-skilled workers. She has well developed project management skills having managed numerous significant organisation restructuring initiatives.

Denise has a highly consultative and client centred approach. She has a natural ease with people from all walks of life and cultural backgrounds and is able to readily engage with individuals at all organisational levels. She possesses outstanding one on one coaching and counselling skills along with refined group facilitation techniques, and she delights in delivering superior services which not only meet but exceed client expectations

Qualifications:

- Bachelor Applied Science (Psychology)
- Graduate Diploma (Human Resource Development)